v.

LIBERTY POWER CORP., LLC,
LIBERTY POWER HOLDINGS, LLC,

Defendants.

LIBERTY POWER CORP., LLC, and
LIBERTY POWER HOLDINGS, LLC,

Third-Party Plaintiffs,

v.

MEZZI MARKETING, LLC,

Third-Party Defendant.

No. 1:18-cv-10506

PLAINTIFFS' OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANTS' MOTION FOR LEAVE
TO FILE A SUMMARY JUDGMENT
BRIEF IN EXCESS OF LOCAL RULE
PAGE LIMITS

Plaintiffs Samuel Katz and Lynne Rhodes ("Plaintiffs") submit their opposition to Defendants Liberty Power Corp., LLC and Liberty Power Holdings, LLC's (collectively, "Defendants") motion for leave to file a motion for summary judgment with pages in excess of L.R. 7.1(b)(4). (ECF No. 299.)

1. Plaintiffs oppose excess page limits on Defendants' memorandum of law to because Defendants do not present good cause for additional pages, and at this point excess briefing would unduly consume the resources of the Court and Plaintiffs, and lead to undue delay of the proceedings.

2. In the parties' Local Rule 7.1(a)(2) conference, Defendants represented to Plaintiffs that they would move for summary judgment on (1) agency/vicarious liability, and (2) whether an "automatic telephone dialing system" ("ATDS") under 47 U.S.C. § 227(a)(1) was used to make any of the calls to Plaintiffs. Plaintiffs could not take a position on their request for excess pages without seeing their briefing first, and explained to Defendants that they did not consent to the request as the Court had denied Defendants' prior request for an extension of page length in connection with Defendants' prior summary judgment briefing. (See ECF No. 157.)

3. As good cause for the excess pages, Defendants cite supposedly "unique facts and circumstances applicable to each of the four remaining counts in the Complaint," and including the calls made to Plaintiffs and Plaintiffs' "requests to be placed on [Defendants'] internal do-not-call list. . ." (ECF No. 299 ¶3.) But Defendants have not explained why their legal arguments, in the memorandum for summary judgment, require excess pages. Defendants are plainly able to address all the factual material in the record in their statement of facts under Local Rule 56.1 (which does not have a similar page limit). The facts cited by Defendants' motion for excess pages do not relate to either vicarious liability or to the definition of an ATDS.

4. Oversize briefs inevitably consume more time and attention by both Plaintiffs' counsel and the Court, and—at this point (especially given Defendants' refusal to offer a deponent on its policies with respect to its telemarketers and to supplement their interrogatories to identify which telemarketers used what telephone dialer and when)—might even cause further delays to the briefing schedule. (Cf. ECF Nos. 269, 275 with ECF Nos. 293 at 10-11; 298)

5. The Court should also consider the rest of the record, which weighs against further excess pages.<sup>1</sup> In June 2019, Defendants sought leave to file up to forty (40) pages for their first motion for summary judgment—and Plaintiffs opposed. (ECF Nos. 155, 156.) The Court curbed Defendants, and permitted only five (5) excess pages. (ECF No. 157.) Before that

Feb. 24, 2011) ("filing ad seriatim motions [for summary judgment] also bypasses the page limits set by the Civil Local Rules"; sua sponte striking second motion for summary judgment as remedy for prior piecemeal motion, and ordering defendant to show cause why leave should be granted for the filing of any further motions).

point, however, Defendants had filed 35 and 45-page motions to dismiss (ECF Nos. 56, 119) with Plaintiffs' consent (sometimes after the fact). (ECF Nos. 51-52, 120.) In June 2020, the Court ruled it "does not presume any inappropriate intent on the part of Liberty Power and understands that it must vigorously defend itself in this case, it would be unfair to Plaintiffs to further delay these proceedings" for further developments on Defendants' arguments in its dispositive motions. (ECF No. 233 at 8.)

6. In the context of this case and specifically the motion for summary judgment described by Defendants, the request for excess pages does not overcome the presumption in favor of the existing page limitations.<sup>2</sup>
